

The (Digital) Victorian Naturalist

The Editors are pleased to announce that as of the first issue for 2015, The Victorian Naturalist will be available in digital form.

Arrangements have been made to allow subscribers to download the journal as a PDF, through a page on the FNCV Website. Up to six issues in a sequence will be held on the website at any given time, all of which will be accessible. Each time the latest issue of the journal is added the last issue in the sequence will fall off, and the page will be given a new download address.

If you wish to access The Victorian Naturalist in this way, you need to ensure that this intention and your email address are known to the FNCV Administrative Officer, Wendy Gare. Wendy can be contacted by email on admin@fncv.org.au. As each issue is uploaded to the FNCV website Wendy will email the WEB address of the download page to all of the subscribers who have registered their interest.

Thank you from the Editors

The Victorian Naturalist could not be published, and would not be successful, without the tremendous effort given voluntarily by a large number of people who work behind the scenes.
